

APPLIES TO ACADEMIC YEAR
2001/2002

JUR 2132 Contract law

Program

Bachelor of Business Administration Program in Business Law

Responsible for the course

Tore Bråthen

Department

Accounting - Auditing and Law

Term

Fall

ECTS Credits

18

Objective

The students shall be given a thorough introduction to the law of sales, with a focus on questions regarding activities as purchaser of goods, and questions regarding activities as a salesman. The students shall obtain knowledge of consumer rights regarding sales of goods. Emphasis will be put on practical examples of contract-regulation concerning the situation as purchaser and/or salesman. The students will also be given a thorough introduction to contracts of employment, with a focus on the company's situation as an employer. There shall be given an introduction to the law of the capital market (funding of undertakings), together with other questions regarding law of commercial papers and security.

Prerequisites

None.

Compulsory literature

Martinussen, Roald. 2001. Kjøpsrett. 4.utg. Oslo: Cappelen Akademisk forlag.
Fougner, Jan. 1999. Arbeidsavtalen: Utvalgte emner. Oslo: Tano Aschehoug.
Kjelstrup, Carl -Bernhard. 1996. Liten panterett. 4th ed. Oslo: Tano Aschehoug.
Bergsåker, Trygve. 2001. Lærebok i pengekravsrett. 2nd ed. Vestfossen: T. Bergsåker.

Recommended literature

Course outline

- Purchase contract
- Employment contract
- Law of commercial papers, included payment and negotiation of payment, collection of assets
- Loan and equity financing
- Mortgage and other forms of security

Computer-based tools

None.

Course structure

There will be given 48 hours of lecture. Not all subjects will be covered during the lectures. After the lectures, the students will be placed in seminar-groups, totally 60 hours. Participation in the seminars is obligatory for the students, they are expected to take part in discussions and solving of practical cases during the seminars.

Evaluation

Two five-hour exams conclude the whole course. These two exams are common for all the five sections, the students will be tested in a small practical assignment and in several theoretical questions. The grader will emphasize the student's knowledge, reasoning, methodology, analytical ability and written presentation skills.

Evaluation code(s)

JUR 21321 – written exam that counts 50% of the grade in JUR 2132 Law of contract, 6 ECTS credits.

JUR 21322 – written exam that counts 50% of the grade in JUR2132 Law of contract, 6 ECTS credits.

Aids at the examination

Collection of law-texts, administrative regulations, proposed new legislation.

Makeup exam

To be held at the next ordinary exam given at the course.