

APPLIES TO ACADEMIC YEAR 2003/2004

SPÅ 2212 French for Special Purposes

Program

N/A

Responsible for the course

Terje Selmer

Department

N/A

Term

According to study plan

ECTS Credits

6

Objective

French for Special Purposes has two components. The first one is to supply knowledge of French corporate and general culture to Norwegians who would like to establish themselves in France. The second is practical training in oral French. In connection with a study trip to Paris the students will write a term paper which will be the subject for the oral exam.

Prerequisites

Knowledge of French equivalent to post-secondary French elective course at the NSM.

Compulsory literature

Compendium of articles from quality journals and newspapers.

Recommended literature

Selmer, Terje. 1993. Norsk-fransk økonomisk ordbok. Oslo: Universitetsforlaget

Selmer, Terje. 1999. Fransk-norsk økonomisk-administrativ ordbok. . Bergen. Fagbokforlaget

Course outline

Study of texts, oral presentations, term paper writing

Computer-based tools

Yes

Course structure

26 lessons consisting of cases, oral presentations by the participants, group work and lectures. Active participation is necessary. Study trip to Paris (1 week, paid by the student) to visit official representatives of Norway and some business institutions.

Evaluation

The students shall write a term paper, which will not be evaluated, but the course will end with an oral exam where methods, problems and conclusions in this term paper will be discussed.

Evaluation code(s)

SPÅ 22121 Oral exam

Aids at the examination

None

Makeup exam

Next regular exam

