Course structure

The course is based on classroom activities including lectures, group work, group presentations, as well as supervision related to the term paper.

Evaluation

On completion of the course, students have to hand in a term paper and sit for a five-hour individual written examination. Both evaluations must be passed to obtain a certificate for the program.

At the beginning of the course each student has to choose a topic for his/her term paper. This can be based on a problem in his/her own organization or on an in-depth study of a theoretical problem. As part of the teaching, students have to hand in a 5 page thesis outline, including research problem and procedure for data collection.

Guidelines for work on the term paper are handed out in January, and the term paper has to be handed in by the middle of June. Groups of up to three students can cooperate on the paper.

The written examination will be based on all the subject areas included in the course.
