Introduction

In accordance with the new estate agency act, in force from 1 January 2008, formal estate agency competence or legal competence is required of persons involved in the sale and purchase of real estate in the estate agencies. Transitional rules have been adopted as regards the competence requirements, entailing that persons without the formal competence required by the law may apply for permission to use the title "agent in estate agency business".

The course EMS 2225 Real Estate Brokerage I, is one of four courses in a competence package that the Financial Supervisory Authority of Norway has approved in accordance with the rules on transitional regulations to the estate agency act of 29 June 2007 no. 73, § 5, b.

BI Norwegian Business School will organize all these "transitional" exams every term up to December 31st 2012.

Objective

The course aims to give students an understanding of the practical application of the legislation affecting those practicing the profession of real estate broker.

Students will become familiar with the document procedures involved in a real estate deal. Students will furthermore learn to deal with practical matters in connection with the transfer of real estate and rental of a variety of property types (residential property, agricultural property and commercial property). By drawing up purchase and sales contracts, students will gain an understanding of the practical application of real estate law.

Prerequisites

The 1st year of the Bachelor of Business Administration or equivalent.
