Introduction

Students taking this course cannot also take GRA 6833 Corporate and Global Strategies

Learning outcome

The main goals of the course are to: (i) give an indepth understanding of the research-based literature about the internationalization of the firm; (ii) give an overview of the opportunities and challenges facing firms involved in doing cross-border business activities in an increasingly open and dynamic world, (iii) give a more thoroughly understanding of different modes of foreign operation.

Students that have taken this course should be able to apply theories critically and reflect on firms' internationalization strategies. Likewise, students should be able to understand and present ethical dilemmas with international operations - especially dilemmas linked to outsourcing and offshoring .

All retaken examinations will incur an additional fee.

Additional information

Academic honesty and trust are important to all of us as individuals, and represent values that are encouraged and promoted by the honor code system. This is a most significant university tradition. Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the ideals of the honor code system, to which the faculty are also deeply committed.

Any violation of the honor code will be dealt with in accordance with BI's procedures for cheating. These issues are a serious matter to everyone associated with the programs at BI and are at the heart of the honor code and academic integrity. If you have any questions about your responsibilities under the honor code, please ask.
