Introduction

This course offers an overview of the more complex aspects of business tax law and value added tax law.

Learning outcome

The objective of this course is to give the students a basic understanding of tax law at such a level that they may be able to understand the tax aspects of the more complex transactions involving modern business corporations. To achieve this aim, it is necessary to deal with the interaction of tax law, company law, accounting law and value added tax law.

Prerequisites

All courses in the Masters programme will assume that students have fulfilled the admission requirements for the programme. In addition, courses in second, third and/or fourth semester can have specific prerequisites and will assume that students have followed normal study progression. For double degree and exchange students, please note that equivalent courses are accepted.

Honor Code

Academic honesty and trust are important to all of us as individuals, and represent values that are encouraged and promoted by the honor code system. This is a most significant university tradition. Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the ideals of the honor code system, to which the faculty are also deeply committed.

Any violation of the honor code will be dealt with in accordance with BI's procedures for cheating. These issues are a serious matter to everyone associated with the programs at BI and are at the heart of the honor code and academic integrity. If you have any questions about your responsibilities under the honor code, please ask.
